

I Think I Con (Senior High Con) Post-Con Meeting 2013

Meeting start: 9:40 a.m. October 27th

❖ Registration

- It went smoothly, but if people register and then cannot attend, they must tell someone, by a call or Facebook.

❖ Opening Circle

- It went well, and the names around the circle game is a good idea for future cons.

❖ Rest of the schedule (In general, everything at this con went very smoothly and successfully)

- Saturday wake up went well.
- The food (prepared by Tom Belucci) was amazing!
- Spirit Circle was more versatile.
- TRA was possibly the best one ever.
- The talent show was fantastic, and Joe Schmittgen was a good MC, who we should probably ask to continue in that position for future cons.
- The second game in Saturday night worship was great and very appropriate.
- The success of the surprise cleaning allowed everyone to sleep in 30 minutes later on Sunday morning.
- Sydney Dunnett could be the DJ at future cons.
- Paul Lawson went without sleep the whole con; he made cleanup go faster and is incredible.

❖ Possible Improvements

- There could have been better gluten-free food options, especially for breakfast.
- Some adults have trouble sleeping because of the noise from the lower level (travels easily to the foyer area), which is unfortunately, likely due to bad acoustics.
- It might be better to have a small activity to fill in the time between dinner and the talent show, especially for junior high cons.
- Though cleanup went well, the kitchen was forgotten.
- There was not quite enough urgency in the Sunday morning cleanup.

Meeting end: 9:58 a.m. October 27th
